Cover girl this month is Mandy, a Transpose regular Intro bit..

Next Tea with Teela evening is on the 15th June - starts at 7pm but doors open at 5pm if you want to use the changing facilities

Hi girls,

As I write this newsletter the sun is streaming through the windows and am reliably informed by the gmtv weather girl that it is lasting for a few days - makes you feel like getting out the strappy tops and sandals!!!

The ankle is getting better on a daily basis and am now undergoing physio therapy and hopefully will be walking without crutches some time within the next three weeks. It's been a long 7 months since my accident but can happily report that I can now see light at the end of the tunnel.

Tea with Teela was well attended last month with a couple of new faces - welcome Catherine Anne and Lisa - and lots of familiar faces too. It is always great to see all of you!!

The next tea evening will be the 15th June. Piccies as usual on the back couple of pages.

Love
Teela-Jane

“it was a fantastic change from my normal day job, it was so much fun”

Dawn Green May 09

Transpose had two wonderful secretaries in May - here's how they got on.....

Gemma

Gemma paid a visit at the beginning of May. I wasn't too well that day and therefore hadn't much for Gemma to do on the Admin side of things, so I just let Gemma loose on the clothes rails!!

She had a great day with several changes of clothes - every time I looked up, she had something different on!!

More importantly though, she kept my coffee cup well topped up!! Great coffee maker, thanks Gem.

Gemma

Dawn

Dawn

Towards the end of May Dawn Green came along to be the Transpose PA for the day and its Dawn we have to thank for getting the profile pages and galleries updated on the website. Dawn worked like a trouper all day editing photos then putting them onto the website. Some of you will recognise Dawn as she was recently girl of the month (again).

A huge thank you to Dawn for getting me up to date!!!
A PA of high calibre!

Sparkle

Look and feel fantastic - have a make-over for that special Sparkle party night only £30

Just a final bit about Sparkle as it will soon be here. Only a couple of slots left now for a Sparkle make-over so if you want to look fab for your Sparkle parties, please do not leave it much longer to book as I would hate you to be disappointed.

Thanks also go to Dawn Munroe who has also volunteered as a "he to she" modelI will be demonstrating a make-over (amongst other things) on the day.

Don't forget to support Sparkle either by purchasing a wrist band or other Sparkle merchandise such as T-shirts, knickers, etc.

Tilly's Blog

Hey ho
June fast approaching, another birthday passed and the excitement of 'summer shopping' taking hold.

Teela's tea party went down a storm again this month and I was pleased to hear that a number of you have started to look more closely at what you are using on your skin, am really impressed with some of you – go gurlies!! We are re-organising our beauty facilities so all we need are our lovely ladies to book a pamper.

This months recommendation is Boots own Sanctuary sugar body scrub. This delightful body scrub really does what it says on the jar! I found it to be really 'scrubby' (for want of a better word) and you don't have to be vigorous to get that rosy glow to your skin that some of the supermarket own brand products need. It's a great pre-treatment for shaving / waxing as it removes all the dead skin cells which tend to 'lock' hair follicles in when waxing or for not letting shavers get that really close shave, and it leaves your skin nice and soft. The art of body scrubbing is to buy a reasonable quality scrub and use gently to avoid looking like you've had a rub down with a brillo pad! (For those of us who remember those lol)

I have a couple of 'moans' this month – a general moan and a gurlie moan!

My general moan is in the shape of these new isotonic, foamy, expandable toothpastes. I shan't name the brand for fear of reprisals but a clear word of warning – when using in conjunction with a sonic toothbrush – a VERY little goes a long way! So in your early morning ablutions to avoid giving the postman - who needs a signature at the crack of dawn (?) a heart attack coz your hair ain't brushed and you look like a demented rabid freak in Betty Boop pyjamas drooling blue foam - please use sparingly!

My gurlie moan is peel off face masks - my latest testing escapade. This mask is generally used for taking off dead skin calls on the face for those of you who don't like using a face scrub (or [Tish] don't know what they are!). The idea is that you smear them on your face evenly (this is key!) and then let them dry for about 10 minutes then you peel them off from the chin upwards. Simple! All very understandable, have used them for years – what you don't do (anymore) is decide to rush up to your local spar coz you run out of milk thinking everything will stay the same in your life! Wrong! It seems in their wisdom the manufacturers of peel-off masks have decided that in the spirit of 'improvement' they will make them change colour throughout the process! (like who would forget they had it on I ask myself?) So in hindsight exposing numerous neighbours (and non neighbours) to a shiny sunshine yellow face at half six in the evening (yup that'll be rush hour still) wasn't exactly a bright thing to do so and am sure will have some impact on my neighbours concerns over my sanity, please read labels or don't run out of milk!

ANNIE

“Teela-Jane made me look completely different in the photos”

Annie, May 2009

Girl of the month

Annie.....

Regular visitors to Transpose and Tea with Teela will know this month's girl – yes it's Annie.

Normally Annie would be sensibly dressed in a nice skirt and blouse and a pair of heels at the tea evenings but she does like to vamp it up on a photo-shoot - she does like her PVC and brought along loads of outfits and about 10 pairs of boots in every colour possible.

Annie has been coming to Transpose since it very first started and we are now very relaxed in each others company and always have a good time, full of banter and laughter.

Whilst chatting, I said that one of my favourite looks is the full Drag Queen and how I would like to do it more often. Well Annie is always up for a challenge and so we have decided that our next photo-shoot will be full drag - watch this space!!
“it was fantastic and fun” Annie

Stylish shoes

Info provided by Lisa

www.ghigocalzature.com

Is a new online store that goes to EU 46 (US women's 14 and UK 12) in nice casual and elegant dress styles. They appear to be good quality (ie. leather uppers and soles)

www.gwenethshoes.com

"I now own 8 pairs of these shoes. They are absolutely the most comfortable heels and flats I've ever owned. Their larger shoes are a tad bit wider (between B and C) which makes them fit well. The quality is excellent and styles are really nice. I highly recommend these." Lisa

Look-a-like contest

That's Life!

Many, many, times when I am looking through the photographs I've taken on a photo-shoot, some girls have a remarkable resemblance to TV celebrities, and I very often remark "oh you look like" Well I thought we could have a little contest whereby you get to choose the best lookie likie. To start the ball rolling I have entered J-Jay (with her permission of course) as I think she looks like Ester Rantsen - uncanny don't you think?

If you have any photos you want to enter into the contest then please send them to teela@trans-pose.com. A look-a-like will be featured every month until the end of the year.

At the end of the year I will post all the pictures on the website for an on-line poll where you choose the winner. The winner will then receive a free make-over and photo shoot.

send your own lookie likie pictures to teela@trans-pose.com
