Cover girl this month is Billie.

Intro bit..

Next Tea with Teela evening is on the 21st September - starts at 7pm but doors open at 5pm if you want to use the changing facilities

Hi girls,

It's September already, I expect you have all noticed the dark nights are drawing in, the warmth of Summer is being replaced by that Autumnal chill and the shopping channels have all started selling Christmas cards and decorations. Yep, Summer is over for another year so time to put away the strappy sandals and get the old boots out.

As you can probably tell by the late arrival of this newsletter, I am a bit behind to say the least. So this month, if its OK with you, I will keep it short and sweet. Next month's news will be a meatier product - I promise!!!

Tilly had her own photo-shoot last week, so read her blog to see how she got on.

Tea was quite well supported in August and was really nice to have Nancy, our waitress for the evening - don't get too used to it though, as Nancy can only do the odd occasion for us. Thank you Nancy.

Next tea evening will be the 21st September, so hopefully we will see you then.

Love
Teela-Jane

Sexy-tary

“Thanks once again for a lovely day. Spending it dressed as Paula was lovely! You’re a magician with the make up!!!”

Paula August 09

Transpose had really great quality secretaries in August. If you fancy a day working en-femme, just pick up the phone and give us a call.

Paula

Paula came along as my secretary and was expecting a nice day editing a few photographs as she is excellent at Photo-shop and I had already told her that there was a big back log to get through. I had a 5* appointment due in so Paula came early to help me set up. I had time to do the make-over and then something unexpected happened which meant that I had to divert my attentions elsewhere .

Paula stepped in and took over. She was fantastic, she took all the photos, helped out with costumes and looked after my client. In between changes, Paula even managed to do some photo-shop editing for me. I cannot express how much this meant to me and if Paula hadn't been there as my sexy-tary, I would have had to re-arrange the appointment with my client.

Faye

What a star!! Faye happened to be working on a day when I had to dash off and pick up my sister and family from the airport which meant me being out of the studio for about 3 hours. Faye held the fort totally by herself, answering the phone and taking messages plus doing the work I had left her to get on with. Thank you.

Tali..

I can't NOT mention Tali who came in on her day off to visit the shop and have a browse. THEN.....ended up staying all day!!! She spent the day as my shop assistant, displaying merchandise, tidying behind the counter as well as making me lots of lovely coffee.

It could be You!

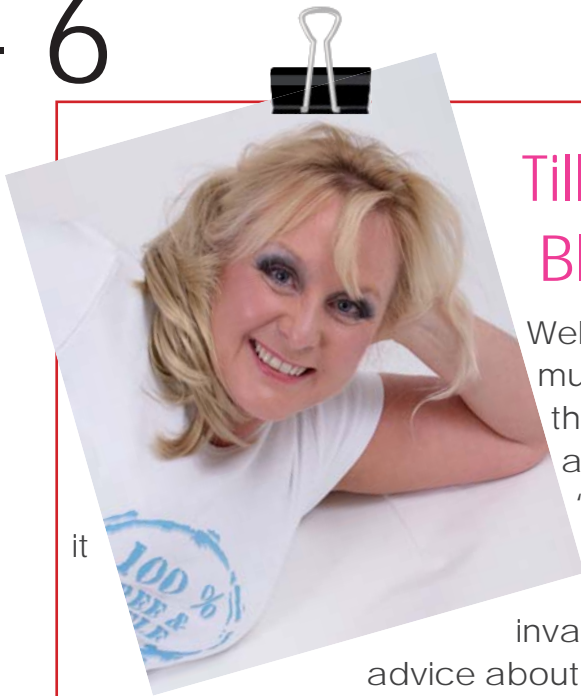

Have you got what it takes to be a high flying sexy PA?

It could be you sitting behind the desk dressed in the most sexy secretarial blouse & skirt EVER and working the whole day En Femme.

Just imagine you could be typing up notes, taking phone calls, talking to other girls who pop by..... Not just a great day, but a must-do experience.

Give Teela-Jane a call on 0151 356 8555 and book yourself in.

Total cost is £50 for the whole day, including make-up, clothes & lunch.

Tilly's Blog

Well..... So much for the much anticipated 'summer', seems all my invaluable advice about caring for your skin during hot weather was a tad unnecessary - no matter - for those of you who did manage to get some sunshine.....LUCKY YOU!

This month I had my own make-over and photo-shoot - I can honestly say this was quite possibly the most enjoyable day I've had so far this year!

We started with a traditional 'before' shot, oh my dear god, talk about turning a sow's ear into a silk purse!! I can only bow to Teela's make-up skills and photographic eye for the quality of the photos we came out with.

The day then started, I had my hair put in electric rollers which only slightly singed my very fine blonde hair and am assured the third degree burn to my scalp will heal nicely!, and set with an industrial strength wig spray for effect (Teela had no hair spray, LOL). Then the artwork commenced..... after some expert mixing, the base coat was applied to my face, this was closely followed by 20 minutes of contouring, highlighting, camouflaging and enhancing to ensure all trace of wrinkles, cheek bulge, lip shrink, double chin, droopy eyelids and sagging neck issues were deftly addressed. After removing the rollers, and letting scalp cool slightly before adding another half bottle of wig spray in an effort to keep some evidence of curl, we then slipped my rather curvaceous, pear shaped figure into what was hoped to be a rather forgiving ensemble and began shooting.

Bringing forth from the annals of my memory a few exotic poses, I modelled very briefly in my younger years and am still stunned by the fact that although I posed in what was a fair representation of my earlier years, why oh why have bits of my body moved around, and to be fair expanded beyond all reason, so as to look pretty much nothing like I had envisioned on the day!!!?

And so onto a rather fetching flowery number wearing 5 inch heels and showing plenty of boobs & legs then the direction to 'twirl' or 'jump in the air' from your photographer brought a string of genuinely useable photographs.

Next a more conservative outfit. By now the hair was resembling a blonde 'fluff' and was pretty much straight despite encouragement from yet another burst of wig spray and so up it went - the hair!!!!. This you understand was thought to make the whole vision sort of romantic.

By this time we had had enough of Miss Nice and decided to 'vamp' it up a bit - ho ho ho here we go bit of naughtiness - I can do vamp I thought - No Problem! Unfortunately for me tight leggings doesn't really go with 'hugeous derrierous' and the vision which looked back at me clad in little more than the afore said leggings, a dayglo pink bra, village people leather cap and a very tight leather jacket wasn't quite what I envisioned! Add to this an enviable set of false lashes, the darkest eyeshadow I had ever worn and vamp red lips I descended the stairs with all the bravado I could muster, only to find a Teela's friend, Phil, fixing the computer!

BEFORE, obviously!!

starting to remember vividly why I never pursued it as a career.

On we trudged - the next ensemble had me in some rather girly night attire posing with a stuffed rabbit, the makeup reassembled, the hair fixed with the aid of a rather well matched hairpiece and the lippy reinstated we took some quite nice shots.

My final collection involved a teensy bit of advertising on my part with the wearing of a t-shirt declaring "100% Free and Single" on it which am sure can be airbrushed out at some point and a couple of other shots which my kids will be ok putting on their mantelpiece.

For all those who are thinking about a 5 star makeover I would wholeheartedly recommend it, not only for the photos and the outfits but the fun and the memories it gives, maybe get a couple of your friends to come with you and join in the fun.

Luv

Tilly

Disguising my abject horror at being caught looking like a reject from 'Jerry Springer', on I marched, the ultimate professional, well until I fell off the most outrageously high pair of what can only be described as 'pole dancers' shoes right in front of the poor bloke!

By now all trace of curl was gone from the hair, which had now turned into 'hat hair', the ankle was twingeing, I was melting under the lights and the leather jacket and was shock, err I mean shot!

Girl of the month

Billie.....

Here is the lovely Billie who came to Transpose in August. We had a great day together and I enjoyed Billie's tales and adventures and could have sat there all day just talking but we had some pictures to take!! I know Billie won't mind me telling you that she is 79 years young!! Looking fantastic Billie xxx

Billie said " I must admit it was one of the best days of my life to be able to be made up and spend the day as the woman of my dreams and be treated as one too I felt that I was the woman

I've longed to be all my life. If felt so natural walking around your premises and being accepted as a woman".

"The only thing that spoils the day, was how quickly the time went. I now can't wait to visit again and spend the day as your secretary"

Billie, August 2009
